

Thanks to the Reviewers of the Korean Journal of Radiology

The editors of the Korean Journal of Radiology appreciate the time and efforts of manuscript reviewers who completed their reviews for the journal from Dec. 2013 to Nov. 2014 to help make the most appropriate decisions on the submitted manuscripts to the journal. There was a 35% increase in the number of original papers submitted in 2014 by Dec. 12 as compared with 2013. KJR has marked the highest impact factor (1.807) in its history in the Journal Citation Reports 2013 reported by Thomson Reuters. We sincerely express our gratitude to all the reviewers listed below for their contribution. Please note that the individuals listed on the 2014 masthead for the Korean Journal of Radiology were not included.
