

S2 Fig. Survival outcomes of the study patients. (A) Kaplan-Meier analyses were performed to estimate the progression-free survival and overall survival of the study cohort. (B) The progression-free survival and overall survival of the study population were compared with those of the subgroups of the source population. (C) Among the patients in the study population, progression-free survival and overall survival were compared according to the initial disease status.