

Supplementary Fig. 4. Three sets of calculated contrast filling ratios of method D. The circles and squares at each pressure point represents the observational values of the initial ballooning and the second ballooning, respectively.